

The Trujillo Times
May 6, 2016

The Week: Well, we finished up our end of the year testing this week. What a relief! ☺ We also worked on our screen time/screen free graphs. Next week the children will be writing a paper comparing the two weeks' results and stating how they felt about the weeks. All these things will then be put together as a test grade for Math, Language Arts, and Social Studies, as stated in a previous newsletter. The children shared their constellation projects, which were all wonderful! I could tell they all enjoyed learning about their specific constellations and it was fun hearing some cool facts. I will grade both the papers and projects over the weekend and send home the grades next week. This week we also earned a Cinco de Mayo party, which the kids really enjoyed. They had a lot of fun with the piñata and snacking on some yummy treats afterwards.

Word of the Week: Unplug. This word was chosen to encourage the children to participate in screen free week.

Reminders:

- Progress reports go home Thursday, May 12th.
- I will be off on Wednesday, May 18th. Ms. Casey will be subbing for me.
- Our next Parent Involvement Night is Thursday, May 26th. Your children should be working on their living museum projects. Remember, I am awarding extra credit towards a low grade plus 10 punches on their earn-and-return cards.
- There will be no school on May 30st, due to Memorial Day.
- Please be sure to ask your children about what they learned in P.E. and music.

Trivia Question: Answer the following question for 1 punch on your Earn and Return cards!! Write your answer somewhere on this newsletter. Your parents may (and are encouraged) to help you. "What sort of creature is a rorqual?"

Spelling List (review of all rules)

odyssey requirement majestic examination convene bemused anecdote sensation underneath vocation

This section is for you! Feel free to write any questions, comments, or concerns you may have. Please sign and return!

Signature: _____