We have had MANY students and staff members affected by illnesses this year. If your child exhibits any symptoms of being sick, please keep them at home. As important as it is for your child to be in the classroom, it's more important that they not spread germs to their classmates. I will get them caught up when they return!

The Week In Review

ELA: We spent this week reading our class novel, Holes, doing DOLs, and practicing reading comprehension.
Math: We decided to begin the year with Ch. 3: Place Value and Decimals.
Science: Students learned about the Scientific Method and began the Straw Tower STEAM Challenge!
SS: The class did a scavenger hunt to learn about parts of a book and text features.

Word of the Week:

Our word of the week was "friendship." Friendships are extremely important because they can heighten one's happiness, help to reduce one's stress, and make one feel better about him/herself. Friendships also offer encouragement and support.
